RUSH OF BILLS.

About 140 Introduced In The House The First Bill Day.

Hon. Jas. F. Rogers Has One On The Question Of Uniform School Books.

Frankfort, Ky., Jan. 15.—As is usual on the first bill day of the legislative session there are many duplications, and not more than half of the measures presented and referred to Committees will ever see the light of day outside the committee room of the legislature to which they went. An instance of the extent of the duplication is given in the number of bills offered to provide for Kentucky a law giving a uniform system of school text books. Four were offered, Representatives Paynter, Moore, Rogers and Stith being the authors. Seven other educational bills were offered, four of them by Representative Wells, of Calloway. Eight bills redistricting the State were offered. Four of these, presented by Representatives Conway, Money, W. W. Lewis and Bruner, were congressional; three, offered by Representatives Parker, Money and A. S. Bennett, were senatorial, and one, by Representative North, was legislative. Two bills were acts to regulate the practice of embalming, presented by Representatives Tompkins and F. B. Brown. There were two to regulate elections; three to regulate the practice of pharmacy, and at least twenty-five affecting the cities and small towns of the State. But one of these, the city of Paducah, seeks to go up a notch. It asks to be taken from the third and placed in the second class.

Three of the 140 bills introduced carried directly appropriations of money out of the State Treasury. The first of these, the Holland State Capitol bill, asks only an immediate appropriation of $10,000. Representative Reed, of Boyle, asked $150,000 for the institution for the Deaf and Dumb, and Representative Klair of Fayette, not at all modest, asked an appropriation of $154,639 for the Eastern Insane Asylum, and $105,000 for the State A. and M. college.

Representative North, of Lincoln, led the House members in the number of bills introduced, sending up twenty to the Clerk's desk. They covered all manner of subjects.

Some of the bills out of the ordinary and the reading of the titles alone of which excited interest, and in some instances amusement, were: "An act to prevent horse-racing in Kentucky;" "an act imposing a tax on dogs;" "an act protecting birds nests, and their eggs;" "an act prescribing a penalty for abduction;" "an act placing the selection of jurors in the sheriff;" "an act requiring professional lobbyists to register as such and pay a license to the State;" "an act regulating the sale of cocaine;" "an act making the carrying in Kentucky of concealed deadly weapons a felony punishable by confinement from one to five years in the State penitentiary;" and "an act to prohibit the sale of cigarettes."

METHODIST MINISTER

Passes Away Near Bolivar After Brief Illness.

Rev. B. H. Hargraves, a well known Methodist minister, died Tuesday night at the home of his son-in-law, W. A. Reed, near Bolivar, this county, aged 65 years.

Rev. Hargraves was a native of Tennessee and for many years lived near Gallatin. He had been making his home with Mr. Reed for several years. Death was due to pneumonia. He had only been sick a few days. The interment took place at Hopewell cemetery yesterday at noon. Rev. E. L. Southgate held services at the grave.

COUNCIL MEETS

And Elects Another Chief of Police.

Joe K. Twyman Elected as Lieutenant of Police For Night Service.

The Council met Wednesday night and elected E. H. Armstrong Chief of Police to fill the vacancy occasioned by the resignation of J. M. Bullard.

Joe K. Twyman was elected as Lieutenant, and will have charge of the police force at night.

John A. Twyman, City Engineer, is in Florida, and may be there for a month or more. Joe K. Twyman has been acting in his place, but as he will accept a regular position on the police force, this necessitated the selection of another as Engineer pro tem. Mr. R. M. Hurt was elected for this purpose.

Other matters of minor importance were transacted, when the body adjourned.

HEALTH BOARD

Holds its First Meeting And Elects a City Physician.

The Board of Health met last Tuesday night, the first meeting of the Board since it was created by action of the City Council last week.

Quite a number of matters of interest were considered by the board, among which was keeping the city in a perfect sanitary condition. Dr. R. L. Woodward was elected city physician at a fixed salary. This is a step in the right direction, and our people may expect a radical change on this line. The board and the physician are all strong sanitarians and will spare no efforts to put the city in the position that the people have desired it to be.

The appointment of Dr. Woodward is a deserved recognition of his eminent fitness for the place. He is one of the best educated physicians in this section of the State; is a fine surgeon, and has had long experience in practice of medicine. For some time he was connected with the hospitals of Nashville. It is a recognized fact that the system of sanitation of Nashville is one of the best in the United States. We expect great work by the new board and its physician and apprehend no disappointment.

FISCAL COURT.

In Session Yesterday, Pursuant to Adjournment.

The Fiscal Court was in session yesterday. Matters of a general nature but not of interest to the public, were disposed of. Repairs on bridges and pikes were considered, and after appointing Squires Williamson and Moseley to act with County Attorney Anderson relative to the work house, the body adjourned.

Bob Taylors Lecture.

Ex-Gov. Bob Taylor delivered his new lecture, "The Old Plantation" at the Opera House last night to a house in which standing room was at a premium. Every seat on the main floor was sold before noon yesterday and many applicants were unable to get seats. Gov. Taylor did not arrive until the 8:25 train, but the audience waited patiently till he came.

Recital And Reception.

There will be a Pupils' Recital at Bethel Female College this evening. A very interesting program will be rendered. Later in the evening, the young ladies of the college will hold a reception in the college parlors.

Miss Jane Gilbert, of Murray, a student in Bethel Female College, who was prevented by illness from returning Jan. 1st, arrived yesterday.

CROFTON CULLINGS.

Victim of Mysterious Depredations Will Sell Out.

Mr. Cooksey Marries at Madisonville—Aged Citizen Dead—Other Items.

Crofton, Ky., Jan. 15.—The wife of J. B. Moore, who lives several miles west of Crofton, died Saturday, of consumption.

Jesse Dunning died Monday night at his home about four miles west of this place of old age and general debility. He leaves several children, all grown. His wife died several years ago. He was 78 years old.

The dwelling of Mr. Goldsworthy in this place caught on fire yesterday morning from a defective kitchen flue, but with plenty of water and help the flames were soon extinguished. The roof was only slightly damaged.

Mr. Marion Cooksey, of Crofton, and Miss Nellie Weldon, of Madisonville, were married today at 2 p.m. by the Rev. J. A. McCord. Only a few special friends were present. They arrived here at 5 p.m. and were given a reception at Mr. C. H. Woodson's. The bride is a daughter of Mr. J. W. Weldon, who kept the Crofton hotel the past two years, but moved to Madisonville the first of the year. She was quite a belle and has many friends.

Mr. J. Wesley McCord, whose stables and corn crib were burned by unknown parties recently, and who has also been the victim of many mysterious depredations, has decided to dispose of his property. He has sold his farm to Mr. Ed Taylor for $800 and will have a sale of his other effects in a few days. NITRAM.

CONSIDERABLE INCREASE.

Supervisors Raise Lists, Increasing Property Valuation $200,000.

The Board of Tax Supervisors for the county, after having been in session ten days, adjourned yesterday to meet again January 28, when a final session of five days will be held to hear complaints from those whose lists have been raised. About 400 lists were raised, increasing the property valuation of the county $200,000 or more.

SOME SALES

Of Tobacco on The Breaks This Week.

Stock Made up of Common Lea And Lugs—Good Prices Ruled.

Sales of the weed on the breaks this week amounted to about twenty-five hogsheads. The stock offered was made up of common leaf and lugs, no fine leaf making its appearance.

The tobacco was in very bad order and there were some rejections.

Prices for it ranged from $5 to $6 per 100 lbs.

$7. The only ahead of lugs so brought 4 1/2 c. The weed has been in very good condition for handling for a week or more, as loose receipts have fallen off considerably, as compared with a week before. Loose buyers still out among the farmers, ever, and fully one half of the of 1901 has been sold, it is estimated.

From this date on until the crop has been sold sales will place on the breaks weekly.

ANNOUNCEMENT!

We are authorized to announce: MR. WEBB C. BELL, Of Christian County, as a candidate for Railroad Commissioner in the First Railroad District of Kentucky, subject to the action of the Democratic party, Election Nov. 1903.

Henry C. Payne took charge as Postmaster-General Wednesday.

Geo. H. Phillips, the former "coro king," was caught in a rye deal this week and wiped off the financial map.

Prince Henry, brother of Emperor William, of Germany, will sail February 15 on a visit to the United States.

Whitelaw Reid for the civilians, Gen. John H. Wilson for the Army and Capt. C. E. Clark for the Navy, have been appointed to represent the United States at King Edward's coronation next June.

Mr. John T. Brown, editor of the Christian Guide, of Louisville, has written a story of Kentucky life called "Bruce Norman," which is just off the press and is having a good sale.

All formalities have been completed with it and it is now Senator-elect Jas. B. McCreary. The new Senator will take his seat March 4, 1902.

The case against Jake Rowe, appealed from Owensboro, has been reversed and remanded for trial. Rowe is charged with malfeasance in the office of commonwealth's attorney.

Arthur Frazer, of St. Joseph, Mich., a cigarette fiend who died this week, boasted that he was the champion cigarette smoker of the United States, having in twelve years smoked 130,000 cigarettes, about 30 a day. He died of cigarette poison.

The Court of Appeals in deciding a local opinion case Wednesday, reversed itself again and practically overruled the opinion recently delivered in the Pratt-Breckinridge contest. The decision upholds the action of a county election board sitting as a Board of Contest.

With a Prison Commission, a Railroad Commission and an Election Commission already in operation and a School Book Commission, an Asylum Commission and a St. Louis Exposition Commission proposed, it would seem that Kentucky is in danger of a "Government by Commission."

The Legislature is proceeding with full realization of the fact that its working life is limited to only sixty days. Within one week of its assembling its organization, including all the standing committees, will have been perfected, a United States Senator elected, and the law-making machinery oiled, tested and set to work. There is much to be done and never by any similar body as there prompter or better being of well-doing.—Louisville.

$100 Reward $100.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at last one dreaded disease that has been able to cure in all stages, and that is Catarrh. Catarrh Cure is the only active cure known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acts directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby building the foundation of the system, giving the patient a new life. Itching Skin

Distress by day and night—

That's the complaint of those who are so unfortunate as to be afflicted with Eczema or Salt Rheum—and outward applications do not cure. They can't.

The source of the trouble is in the blood—make that pure and this itching, burning, itching skin disease will disappear.

I was taken with an itching on my arms which proved very disagreeable. I concluded it was salt rheum and bought a bottle of Hood's Sarsaparilla. In two days after I began taking it I felt better and it was not long before I was cured. Have never had any skin disease since. Mrs. Ida E. Ward, Cove Point, Md.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

rid the blood of all impurities and cure all eruptions.

Having removed United States Marshals from the field of "persecution activity" in politics, the President is now after the Postmasters. The first to feel the new rule is Joseph Crupper, postmaster at Alexandria, Va. Crupper is chairman of the Republican committee in that city, and he is in receipt of an order from the Postmaster-General requesting him to withdraw from all political organizations. It is understood that the new rule will be general in its application and it now looks like all postmasters will have to cut out politics entirely.

The Younger brothers, whose last criminal exploit was participation in the attempt to rob the Northfield Bank, and the killing of two men, were sentenced to the penitentiary for life. Lately they were paroled, but they are not allowed to leave the State of Minnesota. This does not suit them, and they are suing for full pardon, so they may go where they please.

The spot where the first sermon was preached in Kentucky has been located near Harrodsburg, and will be marked by a stone. The discovery is the result of an investigation by a committee, who have decided that the place where an elm tree stood is the spot where Rev. Tinsley, in 1776, delivered the first sermon heard on Kentucky soil. The tree was shattered by lightning in 1862.

Stuart Young's deficit footed up $35,876. The bond company, it is said, will make good this amount. Albert F. German, of the Third National Bank, is short in his account with the bank to the amount of $15,000, but the bank will lose nothing, as German has expressed a willingness to turn over enough of his fortune to identify. Louisville certainly has more than her share of defalcations.

McKnight, the Louisville embezzler, has been tried three times for a crime committed five years ago and yet has never been inside of a penitentiary. The way of the transgressor seems not to always be as hard as it should.

Ex-Gov. Bradley's political schemes are sometimes as hard to see through as a well conceived picture puzzle—understood only by the one who gets them up. Sometimes the Ex-Gov's schemes are as transparent as vapor and evanescent as a snow-flake, though not so pure as either.

The sentiment is so strong against the play of Uncle "Tom's Cabin," that a bill will be presented to the Legislature, prohibiting its presentation in any theatre in the State, and it is probable the bill will pass, if it is framed, so it would not be unconstitutional.

Hon. H. P. Taylor, of Hartford, has announced as a candidate for Judge of the Court of Appeals. This makes three announced candidates for Judge Guiley's seat, Judge W. E. Settle, of Bowling Green, and Judge John L. Milliken, of Franklin, being the other two candidates.

J. H. Garrard, the ex Confederate soldier who was found dead in his room at one of the hotels in Meri-dian, Miss., and believed to have been a resident of Hopkinsville at one time, is not remembered by our older citizens.

The Chicago Chronicle believes that if the plans now being laid by the friends of David B. Hill do not miscarry, the Democratic Presidential ticket in 1904 will be Hill and Harrison. (Carter H., of Illinois).

Rev. Dr. John B. Heywood, the oldest minister in Louisville, died last Monday morning, aged eighty-four years. He was pastor of the Church of the Messiah (Unitarian) for forty years and was father of the High Schools of Louisville.

The Leaf-Chronicle and Times-Journal, of Clarksville, are regaling the readers every day with columns after columns of crimination and recrimination. Fun for the pencil pushers—but how about their subscribers?

The Kentucky Senate last Monday adopted a resolution condemning Admiral Schley and condemning "Historian" Macclay and the Schley court of inquiry.

The Pope is very near to death's door, and is liable to pass away at any time.

"The Greatest Domestic Comedy of the Age."

The above is the trade-mark that was given The Missouri Girl by the Chicago Evening Journal, upon the first presentation of the play in that city seven years ago. This Cognomen has stuck to the piece throughout its seven seasons of unprecedented success, and all who have seen this tunniest of all comedies, agree that the Journal could not have expressed itself more correctly. With a strong and interesting plot, the most natural and extremely funny comedy situations, the excellent coterie of artists in the cast, the gorgeous scenery and the completeness of the production, makes The Missouri Girl stand without a rival in this particular class of entertainment. This attraction will be presented in its entirety at Holland's Opera House Tuesday, January 21st.

EDGEWOOD!

Edgewood's breeding is of the most fashionable strain, and contains crosses to all the blood that has produced the winners of the world. Such stallions are too few for the good of the trotting industry. Numbers of the best, were during the hard times just past, exported to foreign countries. Among the few left to fill the requirements Edgewood remains, though yet a young horse, has seven to his credit, with records from 2:24 to 2:10, which, in itself is proof sufficient as to his merit. His colts are all fine, large, good-looking individuals, good actors and trotters, and command the top prices when led in the sale ring. Gayety, 2:18 1/2, one of his handsome daughters, was sold to John Splin, of Cleveland, Ohio, last February for Five Thousand Dollars ($5,000.00). Eight youngsters by him were sold in John S. Lackey's sale in March last, by S. J. Fleming & Son, of Terre Haute, Ind., for prices that proved to them that there was still money in raising colts by the right kind of a horse.

Edgewood is the property of S. J. Fleming & Son, of Terre Haute, Ind., and ranks with such horses as Margrave, Axell, and Jersey Wilkes, which is proven by his list of colts with race records. His colts make fine roadsters and Matinee horses and are sought for that purpose as well as for race horses.

Edgewood, by Nutwood, (600) are of 160 performers, including Lockheart, 2:08 1/2, Manger, 2:16 and 12 others in 2:10 list. His by Belmont, Ha by Abdallah, 15. He by Hambletonian, 10. Nutwood's dam, Miss Russell, dam of Maud S, 2:08 1/2, and six others. Her sons are sires of 223, and Edgewood's dam, Melrose, is the dam of Glenview Belle, 2:20 1/2, and Frances, (2 yr.) 2:28 1/2, made in 1901. The second dam, Moss Rose, dam of Nutrose, 2:28, and grand dam of 16, 2nd dam, Primrose, the dam of 6, from 3:30 to 2:20, 4th dam, Black Rose, dam of 2:20 list.

STREET FAIR

Couple United Their Destinies at the Court House.

Wednesday morning a party who had been connected with a street fair and hailed from Jacksonville, Fla., applied to County Clerk Prowse for license to marry. Obtaining same Judge Fowler stepped across the hall and in an impressive manner pronounced them man and wife. The groom is W. E. Stroppe, the bride Miss Lola Matthews.

Remarkable Cure of Croup.

A LITTLE BOY'S LIFE SAVED. I have a few words to say regarding Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It saved my little boy's life and I feel that I cannot praise it enough. I bought a bottle of it from A. E. Steere of Goodwin, S. O., and when got home with it the poor baby could hardly breathe. I gave the medicine as directed ever ten minutes until he "threw up" and then I thought sure he was going to choke to death. We had to pull the child out of his mouth in great long strings. I am positive that if I had not got that bottle of cough medicine, my boy would not be on earth to-day.—JOHN DEMORE, Wood, Iowa. For sale by all Druggists.

Moved to Madisonville.

Judge M. D. Brown and family, of this city, went to Madisonville last Tuesday morning, where they will make their future home. Whilst we are glad that the prospects are so flattering for the Judge in the practice of his profession yet we are loth to give him up, for he is a whole-soul, genial man. The Judge was born and raised in this county and has been identified with its interests so long that he will be missed. He found his way to Madisonville several years ago remaining there long enough for the people to well know his qualities. Here's hoping that his success may be unlimited.

A Good Recommendation.

I have noticed that the sale on Chamberlain's Stomach & Liver Tablets is almost invariably to those who have once used them. Says Mr. J. H. Weber, a prominent druggist of Cascade, Iowa: "What better recommendation could any medicine have than for people to call for it when again in need of such a remedy? Try them when you feel dull after eating, when you have a bad taste in your mouth, feel bilious, have no appetite or when troubled with constipation, and you are certain to be delighted with the prompt relief which they afford. For sale by all druggists."

STEADY GROWTH

Of The City of Hopkinsville On South Main Street.

The New Building of the First National Bank To Be Erected Soon.

Among the many new buildings that will go up in this city this year will be the new quarters of the First National Bank. Plans are being drawn for an elaborate building on the bank's property just across the street from its present quarters and known as the Frankel building. This is one of the best locations in the city and the property has always been held at a high figure. The property came into the hands of the bank several months since and was bought with the view of erecting in place of the antiquated bank building in this section of the state. The special features have been in the hands of architects for some time and the officers have about decided on which plan they will adopt. As soon as building weather opens work will commence and be pushed to a rapid completion.

The building will prove quite an addition to the already ornamental Southern section of Main street. As is well known, the largest and most imposing buildings in the city, excepting Hotel Latham are located "down in the bottom." In fact, most if not all buildings of any magnitude that have been erected on Main street in the past decade have necessarily been south of Ninth street. The great conflagration of 1882, and the one following in December 1884 wiped out everything above Eighth street. In place of the antiquated two-story buildings arose modern three-story store-rooms. But increasing population and business demanded more large business houses. The first building to be erected was on the corner of Ninth and Main, known as the Withers block—the present quarters of the First National Bank—and along with it the Moynon block. Then the Mason block, now the Northern half of the Trice block, built specially for the occupancy of J. H. Anderson & Co. In 1894 Mr. J. H. Anderson put up the double three-story building corner of Tenth and Main.

The increasing business of the KENTUCKIAN, which had been located upstairs on Ninth street, induced the publisher to look out for more commodious quarters, and simultaneously with the erection of what has generally been known as the Racket Building, up sprang the KENTUCKIAN office. Then another wide-awake firm, Ragsdale, Cooper & Co., had drawings made and let out the contract for their imposing three-story block reaching from Tenth to Eleventh streets.

This was followed by Forbes & Bro., who made an addition to their store-room of an office and three rooms to their block. Of course this look backward will be of interest to all who are interested in the growth of our city, and it is with pride that they take back glances and even take hope for the future of the best town in Southern Kentucky.

The quarters for the First National Bank will be on a par with the other buildings in its neighborhood. No expense will be spared to make it thoroughly adapted to the purposes for which it is intended. It is to be two stories, but showing a three-story frontage.

The first floor will be devoted to the uses of the bank—the banking office, vaults, etc.—equipped with everything necessary for the convenience and comfort of the gentlemen who conduct its business. The second floor will be approached by two stairways, one on Main and the other on Ninth street. Suits of business offices will be conveniently arranged and provided with everything to make them desirable. In fact this modern building will be up-to-date in every particular.

The business of the bank has grown steadily from year to year, and we are glad to see the manifest prosperity it has attained in the eight years of its existence.

The Platters Bank and Trust Co., which has lately purchased the building occupied by Bassett & Co. and J. L. Tobin, will begin remodeling early in the spring. Besides arranging the building for perfect adaptation for banking purposes, the company will also put in a number of vaults for the convenience of the public and other new features.

The City Bank has, for some time, been considering plans for radical changes in its building, but as we are told by the president, the architects have not yet suggested exactly the changes desired.

An Attack of Pneumonia Warded Off. "Some time ago my daughter caught a severe cold. She complained of pains in her chest and had a bad cough. I gave her Chamberlain's Cough Remedy according to directions and in two days she was well and able to go to school. I have used this remedy in my family for the past seven years and have never known it to fail." says James Prendergast, merchant, Anabot Bay, Jamaica, West India Islands. The pains in the chest indicated an approaching attack of pneumonia, which in this instance was undoubtedly warded off by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It counteracts any tendency of a cold toward pneumonia. For sale by all Druggists.

Coming Attractions. "The Missouri Girl" which comes to Holland's Opera House Tuesday evening Jan. 21 is one of the most unique comedies ever brought here. It fairly bubbles over with fun from beginning to end, and affords an evening of rare amusement. The production was written to bring out the quaint humor of Fred Raymond, who in portraying "Zeke Dobson," a gawky farmer lad, convulses the audience at his every appearance.

Mr. Raymond in general make-up is well fitted for the part, and his originality of speech and action perfects his character.

A Reliable Remedy for Bowel Troubles.

Rev. J. M. Yingling, pastor of the Redford St. M. E. Church, Cumberland, Md., says: "It affords me great pleasure to recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I have used it and know others who have never known it to fail." For sale by all Druggists.

Will Not Resign.

Esq. Thos. J. McReynolds, who has been elected road supervisor for the county will not have to resign as magistrate. The best lawyers in the city hold that the positions are not incompatible. It is in fact much better to have the road work under the personal supervision of a member of the Fiscal court who can be in constant touch with the other members. Esq. McReynolds is one of the best fitted men in the county for this class of work.

W. L. Yancey, Paducah, Ky., writes: "I had a severe case of kidney disease and three of the best physicians in Southern Kentucky treated me without success. I was induced to try Foley's Kidney Cure. The first bottle gave immediate relief and three bottles cured me entirely. I gladly recommend this wonderful remedy." Take no substitute. All druggists.

A GOOD ROAST.

And a Deserved Turn Given By The News-Democrat.

The ladies of the Daughters of the Codifedacy at Lexington recently petitioned the manager of the Lexington opera house to refrain from booking any more "Uncle Tom's Cabin" shows. The request was courteous, and it merited a courteous reply. But the manager of the opera house, who evidently mistakes flippancy for wit and insults for epigrams, returned the following answer: "To the Committee of Lexington Chapter, United Daughters of the Confederacy—Ladies: A copy of your resolution in reference to 'Uncle Tom's Cabin' has been received. Replying to the same, I have only to say: The war has been over about 36 years. Yours, etc., Charles Scott." This moves one to regret that the said war was not of sufficiently recent date to have made Mr. Charles Scott one of its victims. Still there is some consolation. The war has been over as stated, about thirty-six years, but the fool-killer goes on and on forever and in his own good time may gather Mr. Charles Scott, of Lexington, Ky., into the fold.—Paducah News-Democrat.

Poultices.

The application of heat is often extremely useful in the relief of pain and of inflammation, or in hastening the maturing of a boil or felon. The most usual way of making such an application is by the means of poultices. These retain the heat much longer than hot cloths, and have an advantage over a hot water bag when moist heat is required.

The making of poultices is an art which can be learned from practice and unfortunately for many poor sufferers, few persons ever master the art.

A good poultice should be perfectly smooth, moist, but not dripping, as light as possible, and as hot as it can be made without burning the patient.

A poultice of flaxseed is perhaps the most common, but poultices can be made of ground slippery elm, corn meal, bread, starch or any other material that will make a smooth paste with hot water, and will not dry too rapidly and become caked and hard.

In making a flaxseed poultice the flaxseed meal, the bowl and the spoon for stirring should be previously warmed, and everything should be ready to the hand before a start is made. Boiling water is poured into the bowl, and then the meal is added gradually with constant stirring. This is better than adding the water to the meal, for then it is very difficult to prevent lumping.

As soon as the paste is of the proper consistency—two parts of meal to five of water being about the right proportion—it should be spread an inch or so thick upon a piece of muslin, leaving an uncovered margin of two inches. Then on the face of the poultice is placed a piece of flannel of the same size as the muslin. The edges are now quickly turned over and fastened with safety pins or basted, and the poultice is ready.

The flannel side goes against the skin, a layer of cotton is placed over the poultice, and the whole is covered with rubber tissue or oil silk.

The advantage of having the flannel next the skin is that the poultice may be applied very hot without burning.

If it is necessary to repeat the poultices often it is well to make bags of the right size, sewn on three sides and with two-inch flaps on the end, which can be rapidly pinned after the bag is filled.

A poultice to be of any use should be changed as soon as it grows cold, which is usually by the end of two hours.

If applied to a commencing boil, it should be only a little larger than the inflamed part. Generally it makes little difference what material is used, the virtue being in the heat and moisture; but sometimes flaxseed irritates a very tender skin, and then starch or bread should be substituted.

CURIOUS BANK NOTES.

Collection Exhibited Before Institute of London Bankers.

On Aladdin's principle of giving new lamps for old, Mr. Moberly Phillips, an associate of the Institute of Bankers, is preparing equivalent in gold, for old notes which have some interesting history attached to them. Mr. Phillips says the London Chronicle, is the only collector of bank notes in the country, and probably out of it, and his collection amounts to 800, more or less. Some of the more valuable of his specimens he exhibited last evening at a meeting of the Institute of Bankers in the London Institution. One of the most interesting was a note issued by Maj. Gen. Baden-Powell during the siege of Mafeking. It is numbered 766, dated March, 1900, and printed in green ink on an obviously primitive machine. Another, with, if possible, a still more fascinating history, was a currency note, with Arabic lettering, printed by Gen. Gordon when he was besieged in Khartoum. Of Bank of England notes Mr. Phillips has specimens of the face value of £1 not only in appearance the Scotch 20-shilling notes of the present day.

In time of emergency, when coin was scarce, paper money of as low a value as 3s. was issued by traders. But there has been a lower depth even than this, cards and paper tickets having been resorted to in some places for 2s small a sum as 1s. Another interesting special issue, shown by Mr. Phillips, was that of the Birmingham workhouse. These notes were circulated by the overseers for various small amounts, "for the convenience of paying the poor," and payment was made when eight 2s, 6d. or four 5s. notes were brought together. In one corner of one of these notes is a picture of Charity nursing young children. As showing the length of time during which notes may remain in currency, Mr. Phillips mentioned that he had a Scotch note for £12, dated 1731, and the bank which issued it offered to change it for him. Being a collector, Mr. Phillips preferred to keep his ancient bit of paper.

In the matter of diminutive bank notes a correspondent sends an account of a curious note, which he has in his possession. It is a card measuring 2 by 3 1/2 inches, on one side of which is twice printed the word "two-pence," while on the other side the sum is printed in words and figures around the border. In the middle is the following: "I promise to pay the bearer on demand, two pence. By order of the corporation of the City of New York, February 20, 1790—D. Phoenix, City Treasurer."

LOOK AFTER THE SENATORS.

Pages in the Upper House of Congress in Washington.

The great care that is exercised in providing for the wants of senators was shown the other day when Senator Tillman, just before the senate was called to order, clapped his hands and asked the page, who rushed to his side, for a penpoint. He gave no intimation, says the Washington Star, as to the kind of penpoint he was accustomed to use. The page quickly tripped to an unoccupied desk and ran his eye over a list of senators on which was named the kind of pen each of them uses. In the same desk were a dozen boxes of pens of different kinds. He selected the kind that is always used by Mr. Tillman, and gave him a supply of them. Newly elected senators are frequently surprised at the way their wants are anticipated and their comfort is looked after in scores of ways in the senate chamber, but after they have occupied a seat there for a few months they take it all as a matter of course. The pages become familiar with the individual tastes of senators in many little matters. They generally know, if sent to the stationery room for anything, just about what will be pleasing, but in case they should forget the kind of pen that is wanted a complete list of the senators is ready for them to consult at all times. A senator has to indicate his preference for any particular kind of stationery supplies but once, and after afterward it is given to him unless he should make a change.

Industrial Consumption of Gold.

The industrial consumption of gold in the United States in the calendar year is estimated to have been $106,667,500, and in the world approximately $75,000,000. Although the United States led the world last year in the production of gold, our imports of that metal exceeded our exports by the sum of $12,866,101. The stock of gold coin in the country, including the bullion in the mints, at the close of the fiscal year, was estimated

EUGENE FIELD.

Best Work Was Done in Poverty—His Manager Admits.

"There were two fields—the author and the man," says Slason Thompson, in the biography of Eugene Field which the Scribners have just published, "and it is the purpose of this study to reproduce the latter as he appeared to those who knew and loved him for what he was personally, for the benefit of those who have only known him through the medium of his writings.

"In doing this it is far from my intention to disturb any of the preconceptions that have been formed in the perusal of his works. There are the creations of something entirely apart from the man whose genius produced them. His fame as an author rests on his printed books, and he endures as surely as the basis of his art was true, his methods severely simple, and his spirit gentle and pure. In his hands the dominant note was that of 'two convivalities'."

It is more than probable that Eugene Field chose Chicago for the place of his permanent abode after deliberately weighing the advantages and limitations of its situation with reference to his literary career. He felt that it was as far east as he could make his home without coming within the influence of those social and literary conventions that have squeezed so much of genuine American flavor out of literature.

"He had received many tempting offers from New York newspapers before coming to Chicago, and after our acquaintance I do not believe a year went by that Field did not decline an engagement, personally tendered by Mr. Dana, to go to the New York Sun, at a salary nearly double that he was receiving here.

"But, as he told Julian Ralph on one occasion, he would not live in, or write for, the east. For as he put it, there was more liberty and fewer literary 'fellers' out west, and a man had more chance to be judged on his merits and 'grow up to his country.'"

"Practically all Field's scholarship and mental equipment, so far as they were obtained from books, were acquired after he came to Chicago, and he was never lifted above the ragged edge of impecuniosity until he began to receive royalties from the popular edition of 'A Little Book of Western Verse' and 'A Little Book of Profitable Tales'."

"His domestic life was spent in flats or rented houses until less than five months before his death. The photographs taken a few months before his death of Eugene Field's home and the beautiful library in which he wrote are ghastly travesties on the nomadic character of his domestic arrangements for many years before June, 1895—dreams for which he longed, but only lived to realize for a brief month."

"All the best Field wrote previous to 1890—and it includes the best he ever wrote except 'The Love Affairs of a Bibliomaniac'—was written in a room to which a box-stall is palatial, and his sole library was a dilapidated edition of Bartlett's 'Familiar Quotations,' Cruden's 'Concordance of the Bible,' and a well-thumbed copy of the King James version of the Bible. He detested the revised version. The genius of this man at this time did not depend on scholarship or surroundings, but on the companionship of his fellows and the unconventionality of his home life."

WINE OUTPUT OF THE WORLD.

Nearly Four Billions of Gallons Produced in 1900.

In a supplement issued by The Chamber of Commerce Journal there are given special reports on the Paris international exhibition of last year. In the report on wine culture Sir James Blyth enumerates the ascertained results of the wine industry of the world. The total production of wine in 1900 is put down at 3,618,700,000 gallons. Of this total, 3,408,000,000 gallons were produced in Europe and 206,000,000 gallons in America, while the British empire, with a vastly larger area than Europe and embracing every variety of soil and climate, is only represented by a production of some 9,000,000 gallons, or a four-hundredth part of the whole. France, with a yield of 1,482,000,000 gallons, stands easily first as the leading wine producer. Her contribution was about half the yield of all Europe and considerably more than a third of that of the entire globe.—London Chronicle.

Four Hearts Made Happy Last Tuesday Night.

A beautiful double wedding occurred last Tuesday night at the pretty home of Mr. John P. Prowse, our efficient county clerk, South Main street. Miss Genie Prowse was married to Dr. W. L. Moore, of White Plains, and Miss Maud Prowse, her sister, was married to Mr. Robert Wells, of Muhlenberg county. The marriage was solemnized by Rev. Mr. Gatlin, pastor of the Baptist church at Madisonville, in the presence of a few relatives and intimate friends. The brides are nieces of Mr. John P. Prowse and their homes have been in Muhlenberg county. They have frequently visited in this city.

Mrs. Gatlin and Mrs. Stanley, of Morton's Gap, Mr. John Brasher, of Madisonville, and others came up to be present at the nuptials.

DR. PENTECOST

May Return to This City For Another Meeting.

Large Number of Business and Professional Men Want Him to Come Back.

Last Tuesday afternoon there was a large gathering of our citizens at the office of Judge James Breathitt for the purpose of getting Dr. Pentecost to return and hold another series of meetings, or rather, to take up his work where it was left off when he went to Henderson.

No doubt Dr. Pentecost will give Hopkinsville the preference, but he has calls from Louisville, Danville, Lexington, a church in Iowa, etc.

There were over thirty of the leading business and professional men present, as well as bankers, all the ministers of the city, etc., etc. Among whom were Dr. Blakey, Geo. C. Long, Dr. Stiles, J. H. Anderson, Dr. Eager, H. C. Gant, Judge Landes, Dr. Bacon, Mayor Henry, R. M. Anderson, Judge Breathitt, W. T. Tandy, E. B. Bassett, E. M. Flack, etc.

Rev. F. L. Goff was called to the chair and E. B. Bassett appointed Secretary.

A formal invitation was mailed to Dr. Pentecost to return and begin his work anew at as early a date as may be most convenient. An executive committee was appointed by the chairman, consisting of Dr. Stiles, Judge Breathitt and E. B. Bassett.

In the event Dr. Pentecost returns these gentlemen will undertake to manage all details incident to the meetings. Their ability and progressive spirit are a guarantee that everything will be done in order.

The meeting adjourned, subject to a call suggested by the executive committee.

Since the above was in type, a letter has been received in answer to the request for a return to the city, in which Dr. Pentecost says that at the time of writing he was unable to promise another series of meetings here, but would in all probability be able to give a definite answer in a very short time. The contents of the letter lead to the conclusion that he may return.

You should know that Foley's Honey and Tar is absolutely the best for all diseases of the throat and lungs. Dealers are authorized to guarantee it to give satisfaction. Sold by all druggists.

Fruit Hill Notes.

Xmas is over and the farmers are busy making plant beds, and preparing another crop. Success to you, farmers.

Little Elora Warner is quite sick with pneumonia fever. Dr. S. H. Williams is the attending physician.

Mr. Claud Bowles was in our midst last week visiting friends.

Tom Nixon left last week for Illinois, where he will make his home.

Mack Dulin, of Laytonville, spent Saturday and Sunday with relatives here.

After spending several weeks with friends and relatives at and around Laytonville Miss Maud West returned much delighted from her visit.

Our magnetic healer is off at school now. We hope he will be able to raise the dead when he returns.

The old and young people of this vicinity are enjoying many parties.
